

Grammar

Masculine and feminine singular nouns.

Definite article THE (el/la) in masculine and feminine.

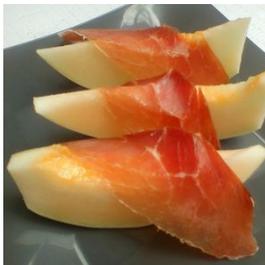

Verb TO LIKE in positive and negative (me gusta/no me gusta) in the first person singular.

Verb TO LIKE in the second person singular as a question.

Culture

Typical Spanish foods in summer

Summer in Spain means eating and drinking outdoors! People here turn to frosty glasses and chilled plates to keep cool. Who needs air conditioning when you can have fresh salads and cold soups? Yes, a cold soup called GAZPACHO is a fresh dish made with red tomatoes, cucumber, green pepper, olive oil, vinegar and salt. Very worth trying it if you travel to Spain. Also fresh salads full of colourful ingredients are a must try in Spain due to the quality of national products. But the special mention goes to melon with cured ham. Although it may seem like an odd combination, the sweetness of the melon and the saltiness of the ham combine perfectly.

Key Sounds

ch g ll z ce

ch

In lechuga (lettuce)

g

In lechuga and gusta (lettuce and like)

ll

In repollo and cebolla (cabbage and onion)

z

In zanahoria (carrot)

ce

In aceite (oil)

ROCKALINGUA <https://rockalingua.com/>

User name

Grangepark

Password

morado

Key Vocabulary

Spanish

English

El tomate
La lechuga
La cebolla
El repollo
La zanahoria
El aceite

The tomato
The lettuce
The onion
The cabbage
The carrot
The oil

Me gusta
No me gusta
¿Te gusta?

I like it
I do not like it
Do you like it?

El baile de la ensalada

The salads dance

